ABOUT THE CANADIAN SPORT AWARDS

The Canadian Sport Awards were established in 1972 by modern day co-founders True Sport, Canadian Centre for Ethics and Sport, Canada Games Council, Commonwealth Sport Canada, and AthletesCAN to recognize and showcase excellence in Canadian sport. Since then, the CSA evolved over time to become the premier recognition event for national sporting excellence. After the 40th anniversary, the awards experienced a five-year hiatus. In 2017, AthletesCAN successfully acquired the rights to revive this staple event to once again bring together members of the sport community to honour the spirit, drive, and commitment of Canada's international level athletes, coaches, volunteers, and sport leaders. Past recipients include Canadian sport icons Donovan Bailey, Chantal Petitclerc, Hayley Wickenheiser, Mark Tewksbury, Tessa Virtue, Scott Moir, Simon Whitfield, and Catriona Le May Doan, among many others.

THE CSA PROCESS OVERVIEW

1. AthletesCAN sends out a Call for Nominations for the upcoming CSA. The call goes out to the broad sport community including national sport organizations, multi-sport Organizations, COPSI Network, the media, as well as the general public.
  2. In addition to the Call for Nominations, there shall be an annual review by the Canadian Sport Award Committee of Canadian athletes, coaches, volunteers, sport leaders, and sport builders who have made significant impact in their sport with the lens of the specific criteria of each Canadian Sport Award category.
  3. Any person that meets the current CSA eligibility criteria may be entered for consideration. Eligible entries are for sport leadership stories and contributions that have taken place between August 1, 2021 and September 30, 2022. Eligible entries for Leadership (formerly Influencer) Awards are to be submitted by October 31, 2022.
1. Nomination forms and deadlines are posted for each of the award categories at <https://athletescan.ca/events/canadian-sport-awards/>. Upon receipt of online nominations, AthletesCAN will review each nomination for completeness and to ensure eligibility requirements are met. It is important to note incomplete nomination forms will not be considered. The completed nominations are then forwarded to the Jury to rank the top 3 to 5 through review, deliberations, and independent voting (see Selection Process on page 12). Once the jury has submitted its votes, the CSA scrutineers tabulate scoring, and the finalists are publicly announced. The winners will be announced December 2022 .

INDEPENDENT REVIEW

The evolution of the CSA brings not only profile and public awareness, but also potential for public scrutiny. In 2001, the True Sport Foundation (TSF) reviewed its nomination and selection processes in light of the growing profile of the CSA to ensure that they met best practices. As part of the review, the TSF contracted KPMG LLP to conduct a review of the nomination and selection processes and criteria, identify strengths and weaknesses of these processes, and to provide recommendations. The review also included feedback from members of the sport community (athletes, media, high performance experts, and representatives of key stakeholders). AthletesCAN commits to this process and will continue to review the guidelines with its Jury, an independent group appointed by the AthletesCAN Board.
